Haskell Mayflower Descendants – Additional Lines

John G. Everett, Watertown, Massachusetts

Introduction

The Haskell Journal, Issue 105, Summer 2018, has a fascinating article, Haskell Mayflower Descendants. It describes 16 different Haskell lines to 11 Mayflower passengers. Below, we will see that there are at least two additional lines to Mayflower passengers shown in the article, Richard Warren and Thomas Rogers. Also, there are Haskell lines to two Mayflower passengers not shown in the article, James Chilton and William Brewster.

Jonathan[5] Haskell and Deborah Arnold from the Alden (see Haskell Journal, Issue 105), Chilton, and Warren lines had a son, Samuel Arnold Haskell who married a distant cousin, Mary Haskell, daughter of Stephen[5] Haskell and Patience Mayo from the Brewster and Rogers lines. Samuel Arnold and Mary had three children: Albert, Edwin, and Harriet. These three Haskells and their progeny are descendants of at least five Mayflower families!

Richard Warren (additional line)

Richard Warren's daughter, Abigail, married Anthony Snow in 1639. They had a son, Josiah, who married Rebecca Barker in 1669. Their daughter, Bethiah, married John Sprague; and their daughter, Joanna, married James Arnold. Their son, Bildad, married Mercy Seabury in 1766 as noted in the Alden and Chilton lines. They had two daughters, Elizabeth and Deborah, both of whom ended up marrying Jonathan[5] Haskell (Joel[4], Daniel[3], Joseph[2], William[1]; or Joel[4], Sarah[3], William[2], William[1]).

James Chilton

James Chilton, his wife (name unknown), and youngest daughter, Mary, were all Mayflower passengers. At 64 years of age, James was the oldest of the Mayflower passengers. He died aboard the Mayflower while anchored near Provincetown. His wife died during the first winter, but Mary survived.

Mary Chilton married John Winslow in 1624. (Two of John's brothers, Edward and Gilbert, were Mayflower passengers; John came later.) Their daughter, Mary, married Edward Gray in 1651. Their daughter, Elizabeth, married Seth Arnold in 1680 and had a son, James, who married Joanna Sprague. Their son, Bildad, married Mercy Seabury, as noted in the Alden and Warren lines. They had two daughters, Elizabeth and Deborah, both of whom ended up marrying Jonathan[5] Haskell (Joel[4], Daniel[3], Joseph[2], William[1]; or Joel[4], Sarah[3], William[2], William[1]).

William Brewster

William Brewster, his wife, Mary, and two of his children came on the Mayflower. His daughter, Patience, came later, and married Thomas Prence in 1624 in Plymouth. Their daughter, Hannah, married Nathaniel Mayo and had a son, Thomas, who married Barbara Knowles in 1677. Their son, Theophilus married Rebecca Smith, then their son, Isaac, married Patience Rogers (see Rogers line). Their daughter Patience Mayo married Jasper Marston, and had a daughter Rebecca who married Stephen Haskell[5] (William[4], Thomas[3], Benjamin[2], William[1]).

Thomas Rogers (additional line)

Thomas Rogers and his 18-year old son, Joseph, were Mayflower passengers. Thomas died during the first winter. Joseph survived and married Hannah, maiden name unknown, in 1631. Their son, John, married Elisabeth Twining, and had a son, Judah, who married Patience Lombard/Lumbart in 1704. Their daughter, Patience, married Isaac Mayo (see Brewster line). Their daughter Patience Mayo married Jasper Marston, and had a daughter Rebecca who married Stephen[5] Haskell (William[4], Thomas[3], Benjamin[2], William[1]).

Summary

As in the original Haskell Mayflower Descendants article, the following is a summary of the Haskell lines to a Mayflower passenger described above. In each case, we give the Mayflower ancestor, followed by the Haskell couple in which the wife is a Mayflower descendant, followed by the husband's Haskell pedigree back to William[1].

Richard Warren
Jonathan[5] Haskell and Deborah Arnold
William[1]-Joseph[2]-Daniel[3]-Joel[4]-Jonathan[5]

James Chilton
Jonathan[5] Haskell and Deborah Arnold
William[1]-Joseph[2]-Daniel[3]-Joel[4]-Jonathan[5]

William Brewster
Stephen Haskell[5] and Rebecca Marston
William[1]-Benjamin[2]-Thomas[3]-William[4]-Stephen[5]

Thomas Rogers
Stephen Haskell[5] and Rebecca Marston
William[1]-Benjamin[2]-Thomas[3]-William[4]-Stephen[5]

[Ed. Note: The following three lines to William[1] from Issue 105 show that we have found Mayflower lines through four of William's five sons, William[2], Joseph[2], Benjamin[2], and Mark[2]]

Isaac Allerton
Mark[3] Haskell and Martha Tuttle
Willlliam[1]-Mark[2]-Mark[3]

Isaac Allerton
William[4] Haskell and Abigail Tuttle
Willlliam[1]-Willlliam[2]-Willlliam[3]-Willlliam[4]

John Allen, William Mullins
Jonathan[5] Haskell and Elizabeth and Deborah Arnold
Willlliam[1]-Joseph[2]-Daniel[3]-Joel[4]-Jonathan[5]

Beverly Banker Dies

ULYSSES G. HASKELL

ULYSSES G. HASKELL FUNERAL SATURDAY

Brief Illness Fatal to Beverly Bank President

BEVERLY, Jan. 8—Funeral services for Ulysses Grant Haskell, 71, one of Beverly's foremost citizens and president of the Beverly Trust Company, who died early today, will be held at his home, 58 Lothrop street, Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Burial will be in the Beverly cemetery.

Only a brief illness preceded his death.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Mary F. Haskell; and four daughters, Mrs. Phoebe Ober of Winchester, and the Misses Edith G. Haskell, Maude Haskell, and Helen Haskell, all of Beverly; two brothers, Judge Elmer E. Haskell of Palatka, Fla., and Roy M. Haskell of Beverly. There are several grandchildren.

Mr. Haskell had been president of the Beverly Trust Company continuously since 1914. He also was a lawyer.

He was a descendant of William Haskell of Gloucester, who with his brother, Roger Haskell, was among the earliest settlers of Beverly.

Mr. Haskell was born in Chatham, N. H., the son of Gardner and Phoebe (Chadbourne) Haskell. Some of his education was obtained there but his legal training was begun at the Howard law school, Washington. He was admitted to the Massachusetts bar in 1881, starting his practice in Beverly. His law work was confined mainly to Essex county and principally in Beverly and Salem.

When Beverly became a city he was a member of the first common council, serving for four years, two years of which he was president of the body. He represented Beverly in the House of Representatives in 1901 and 1902 and from 1903 to 1908 he was city solicitor, serving under two different mayors.

He took a keen interest in city affairs and was active in movements to advance the welfare of the citizens. He became head of the trust company when it was organized in 1914. During the world war he served on the Liberty Loan committee and he was selected as one of the four-minute speakers.

Mr. Haskell was a member of the Masons, the Elks, the Beverly Republican Club and the chamber of commerce.

day at 10 A. M., with a solemn high mass of requiem at St. George's Church. Burial will be in St. George's cemetery, Saxonville.
